P.G. COUNTY INITIATES TTY SERVICE

Special services for the deaf were initiated August 22, in Prince George's County to provide emergency and non-emergency help by calling 627-1112. This special communication line works via TTY and is part of the 911 emergency number for police and fire.

In addition, County Executive William Gullett announced that one person in each county agency will begin sign language instruction this fall.

There are approximately 6300 deaf people living in the county and Gullett estimates that there are 47,000 persons residing in the county with some degree of hearing loss. The county has the second largest deaf population in the nation.

The special TTY communication system will be manned 24 hours a day.
